Rahul Ghodke

Senior Vice-President and Business Unit Leader
Asia Pacific Global Technology Operations

Rahul is tasked to help clients achieve business transformation through engineering offerings, platforms, solutions & delivering programs across digital & classic landscape, blending business & amalgamation of technologies including new technology paradigms.

As the business leader of the APAC Global Technology Operations business unit, he collaborates closely with CGI's onsite partners to help drive value excellence and to maintain client satisfaction.

Rahul has over 25 years of experience in consulting, IT infrastructure management, and application design and development. He has been instrumental in helping APAC Global Technology Operations Business Unit pivot to a next-generation service delivery organization with his leadership, expertise in innovation, solution design, cloud, automation, and emerging technologies

CGI